

Job Opportunities

Company Profile

SX Kinetics Inc., the global leader in the design and manufacture of solvent extraction and electrowinning pilot plants, has completed over 100 projects in 16 countries for the separation, purification, and recovery of 26 different metals.

Founded on two decades of experience in the development of innovative hydrometallurgical processes, SX Kinetics has focused on extending and advancing the application of solvent extraction and electrowinning.

Job Details

Title: Software Developer/System Administration

Posted On: July 1, 2008

No. of Vacancies: 1

Qualifications: BS Degree in Computer Science

Essential Skills

Software development, client/server environment, systems, Progress, windows IP or serial communication protocol, Internet security and protocol application security products (firewalls, routers, gateways, VPN, etc).

Job Description

We are currently seeking a Software Developer who has successfully contributed to all aspects of the software product lifecycle, requirement specifications through design, development, implementation, QA testing, maintenance and support.

We offer competitive compensation and comprehensive benefits based on experience.

Please send resumes via email link provided. PRINCIPALS ONLY.

JOB OFFER

To qualify, we would like you to possess:

- * With a minimum of 3 years software development experience and system administration
- * Good understanding with client/server environment
- * At least a Bachelor's degree in Computer Science or a similar field of study.
- * Enthusiasm for new technologies

Salary, benefits package plus equity

Please send resume to steven.webster@sxkinetics.com as attachment in Word format.